After a long summer, this contest is finally ready to come to a close! Thank you all to those who participated, and to everyone who left amazing comments on people's entries!

This was probably the longest I've spent scoring entries, as they were all absolutely outstanding! If I had the time too, I'd give everyone a prize!

You were all so creative and full of talent!

Now, we've got four winners to announce so let's start off with the winners for theme 1!

Theme 1: OC's & protagonists

We have two participants tied at 22 points and have each been assigned heads or tails to help decide who will take first, and who will take second!

Taking first we have Kia-Does-Art!

I love this piece. Scorpion and Caribou's designs look amazing together, and they have matching eyes which just feels like a bonus in all honesty. These two look outstanding, and I can see this scene actually taking place in CoB. The two both struggle with their families, and I can definitely see it being something they could bond over.

Congratulations again Kia, I'll dm you about your won fullbody!

Now taking second place, we have SlimySalamander1114!

Another amazing piece! I love all the tiny details with the environment! Especially the lizard and scorpion scurrying around, the perfect critters to add to a piece with Scorpion and Salamander. After the events of CoB, I can definitely see Scorpion needing some well deserved relax time.

Congratulations again, SlimySalamander, I'll dm you about your named bust!

Now, for theme 2's winners! Honestly some of you guys went above and beyond with this one, I was shocked when I saw some of the entries!

Theme 2: Cover Redraws

Just like the last one, some of you guys got really creative with your interpretations of the cover for Crowns of Betrayal.

Like seriously, some of you a crazy with the amount of time some of these took you guys, but it was worth it!

For these winners we don't need a coin flip, but without further ado

Taking first for theme 2, congratulations CrystalwingOC!

This piece was jaw dropping when I saw it, I probably stared for a good half hour looking over every little detail! All the comments you'd leave on the chapters made my day, and this just shows how closely you've read the first third of the story! And there's still so much to be revealed! All the side character camio's was amazing to look at, especially one of the villains carefully tucked away, I loved that detail!

Congratulations again Crystal, I'll be dm'ing you soon about your cover piece!

Now, last but not least, our second place winner for theme 2! We have TheShiningAuroras!

I love the style of this piece, and how you managed to make everything pop in a unique way! Also, gotta give it to you for how quickly you got this done at the last minute! On a timer of eight hours! Absolutely outstanding work!

Congratulations again ShiningAurora, I'll dm you about your named bust shortly!

I want to thank everyone again for their amazing work in this contest, one of my largest yet, and you all made it such a blast to hold! Thank you all so much!
